

HOW ROADS ARE MADE

Something of the Plan Used In Jefferson County.

MR. LINDUFF'S GOOD IDEAS

The Man Who Had Much to Do With the Construction of a Splendid System of Roads in Jefferson County.

B. N. Linduff, the Steubenville attorney whose hard work in behalf of good roads did much to give Jefferson county a fine system of pikes, has written Clerk Hanley in response to a letter of inquiry directed to him last week. The letter follows:

"Your favor of the 11th was duly received. I am not an expert on the manner of building roads, but have had a great deal to do with causing them to be built.

"We have built over 100 miles of pike, 80 miles of which were built under two laws I had passed for this county. The first was passed in 1886, and the other in 1890. You will find them in the annual volumes for those years.

"There was great opposition here to the building of pikes, but we got them built, and now everybody favors pike roads; would not be without if they cost even more than ours did. Our roads are mostly nine feet wide of stone and 11 feet of dirt; but near the city they are 16 feet of stone. Where there is more heavy teaming I would advise all roads near the city to be not less than 16 feet of hand knobbed stone and 13 inches deep after rolling.

"Now, as to the cost. Our roads, complete, cost us about $5,000 per mile, but our county engineer, Samuel Huston, who had charge of all our work, says they could now be built for about $3,500 per mile. The cost, you will find, varies greatly, owing to the amount of grading, distance to haul the stone, etc. Our stone cost from $1,600 to $3,000 per mile, and finished pike from $2,300 to $3,000 per mile, with an average of about $5,000 per mile for the completed road.

"I enclose you a copy of specifications, which is nearly like the ones we used, and may give you some idea of the matter in general. Mr. Huston, county engineer, would be able to give very definite information, and I would advise you to see him personally, as he is thoroughly posted on the matter, or if you wish anything from me and I can aid you in the same, will do what I can for the cause of good roads."

AT HALF MAST.

East Liverpool Does Honor to the Nation's Dead.

The flag at Central building was at half mast today in honor of the officers and men who met their death when the Maine was destroyed.

This order was given by Professor Rayman.

In the Courts.

LISBON, Feb. 18.—[Special.]—A marriage license was issued today to Frank H. Lones and Laura M. Frantum.

J. H. Martin has sold to the Land Improvement company of Liverpool, eight acres for $2500.

Adaline S. Martin has sold to the same company 34 acres in Liverpool township for $13,600.

The Chardon Creamery company has sued J. D. Mulvehill, of Negley, on two notes and an account amounting to $1462.48.

M. H. Gobbert has sued Catherine Temple and others for partition of lot 25 in East End, Liverpool.

A Good Day.

A larger amount of freight was handled at the outbound platform of the freight depot yesterday than any day this week. Over 15 cars were sent out, and as they were well loaded the tonnage was in excess of that of any day for several weeks.

Receipts were very fair, and the business during the day was very satisfactory.

Going to Church.

Peabody lodge, Knights of Pythias will attend divine services Sunday morning at the Christian church. The address will be made by Rev. Pike, of Barnesville, who is assisting the pastor, Reverend Reed, in a series of special services.

SPANISH HATRED REVEALED

An Amazing Circular That Was Distributed in Havana.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Medical Director Wood of the naval hospital, Brooklyn, is in possession of the copy of a circular, incendiary and outrageous, which was passed about the streets, on railway cars and other places in Havana. A translation of this circular was sent to Medical Director Wood by an officer on the Maine, who picked it up while on a train returning from a bull fight. The circular is as follows:

"Spaniards: Long live Spain and honor.

"What are ye doing, that ye allow yourselves to be insulted in this way? Do you not see what they have done to us in withdrawing our brave and beloved Weyler, who at this very time would have finished with this unworthy rebellious rabble, who are tramping on our flag and our honor? Autonomy is imposed on us to set us to one side and to give posts of honor and authority to those who initiated this rebellion, these ill-born autonomists, ungrateful sons of our beloved country.

"And, finally, the Yankee hogs who meddle in our affairs, humiliating us to the last degree and, for still greater taunt, order to us one of the ships of war of their rotten squadron, after insulting us in their newspapers and driving us from our homes. Spaniards, the moment for action has arrived. Sleep not. Let us show these vile traitors that we have not yet lost shame, and that we know how to protect with energy befitting a nation worthy and strong as our Spain is and always will be.

"Death to Americans! Death to autonomy! Long live Spain! Long live Weyler!

Valuable Dog Lost.

Lost from the premises of the owner yesterday, a large hound, yellow and white; head yellow; left shoulder, yellow spots, and just back of these a black spot, about three inches in diameter; yellow spot on tip of tail; scar alongside of eye; wart on top of neck; one ear has a slight split. A reward of $3 will be given for return of animal to J. B. McKinnon, 111 Washington street. *

On the River.

The river remained stationary during the night, and only a very slight fall was noticed this morning. The marks at noon showed 15 feet.

The Virginia passed up at noon. The Bedford went up at 3 o'clock this morning and had a good trip. Urania went down on time last night.

A goodly amount of ware will be sent out on the Virginia tomorrow night.

Began the Work.

The first actual work toward building the Wellsville porcelain works was commenced yesterday. The fence was torn down, and arrangements were made to move the house on the ground to another lot.

Attended the Party.

Miss Martha Madill, Bridgeport; Miss Hortense Watts, Sewickley; Miss Madge Moffatt and Mrs. Moffatt, Pittsburg; Miss Anna Pugh, Gas Valley, attended the Columbian dance last night.

Suddenly Ill.

Mrs. Samuel Welch, while walking in the Diamond yesterday afternoon on her way to her home in Greasley street, became suddenly ill. She was taken into a store where restoratives were applied.

Good Work.

A portion of the street force are today cleaning crossings in the central part of the city, while the other members of the force are at work draining roads and cleaning boxes in the West End.

A Funeral.

The funeral of John Ross took place this afternoon from his home in West End, Reverend Weary officiating. Interment was made at Riverview.

Doctor Jackson Here.

Presiding Elder Jackson, of Steubenville, will occupy the pulpit this evening at the Second M. E. church.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Reverend Huston was in Pittsburg today visiting friends.

—Fred Ferrer was in Toronto last evening visiting friends.

—Mrs. John N. Taylor, of Sixth street, spend the day in Pittsburg.

—Mrs. Robert Wharton returned from an extended stay in Sharon yesterday.

—Mrs. E. M. Knowles left at noon today for a short stay at Clifton Springs, New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Ripley, of Chicago, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Watson.

TRUTH HIDDEN, FEARING WAR

General Lee Forcing Correspondents to Keep Quiet.

KNOWS SPANIARDS GUILTY.

So Does Captain Sigsbee, but Both Hide the Facts.

A MAINE ATTACHE'S REVELATION.

He Had Charge of the Magazines on the Battleship and Declares That the Vessel Was Torpedoed—Officers of the Ship Have Been Fearful For Some Time. Condemned Allowing a Spanish Pilot to Locate the Warship at a Point Selected by Spanish Authorities—A Spanish Officer Heard Threaten the United States Vessel—Lieutenant Blandin, One of the Survivors, Said the Officers Were at a Disadvantage, Being in an Alleged Friendly Port—Could Not Challenge or Fire on Any Boat Boarding the Vessel. Threatening Remarks of Congosta Recalled—A Possibility That President McKinley Will Ask For a War Loan.

KEY WEST, Feb. 18.—Word comes from Havana that the man who had charge of the magazines on the battleship Maine, blown up in Havana harbor, says that the vessel was wrecked by a torpedo.

Consul General Lee and Captain Sigsbee are believed to be trying to hide the truth, for fear it would bring on war. General Lee has threatened to have the Spanish authorities expel from Cuba any American correspondent who sends out the report that the Spaniards destroyed the battleship.

A correspondent sends word to Jacksonville that the officers of the Maine have been fearful for some time, that something would occur. The letting of a Spanish pilot to guide the ship to an anchorage selected by the Spanish has been roundly condemned.

An officer of the Maine says that a Spanish officer was overheard in Havana to say, "We can blow up the rotten ship when we want."

Lieutenant Blandin of the Maine, in an interview here, said:

"We were in a delicate position on the Maine, so far as taking any precautions was concerned. We were friends in a friendly or alleged friendly port, and could not fire upon or challenge the approach of any boat boarding us unless convinced that her intention was hostile."

Sylvester Seovel, an American correspondent in Havana, has wired the following to a New York paper:

"I shall now quote what Secretary Congosta, then the acting governor general, or filling the functions of that responsible position, said to me the night before the Maine had arrived. Consul General Lee had told him that afternoon that a warship would come.

"Congosto belligerently objected.

General Lee then said:

"Remember, if any trouble does occur, I shall have the whole fleet here in four hours."

"Shortly after, I saw Secretary Congosto, and he was very mad. He was also indiscreet. He said to me:

"If your people would only let us alone it would be all right. Spain has put up with more than any other nation would have done. I have warned you that there will be trouble if the Maine comes here. Now bring your ships here. If you want war you can have it. You will find Spain hasn't forgotten how to fight."

"I took these words at the time as the angry utterances of an overtaxed diplomat. Now they seem to mean something.

"Two days ago a Spanish daily here claimed Senor De Lome wrote his famous letter and caused its capture because he saw no gain in further delaying a break between the two governments."

MAY ASK A WAR LOAN.

This Action Possible on the Part of the President—Governors of States Questioned as to Their Military Resources. Warlike Conferences.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—A war loan,

it is possible, may be asked for by President McKinley.

It is said to have been decided to mobilize the militia on the southern coast for transfer to Cuba in case of war.

There has been suppressed excitement at the White House.

Representatives and senators came in twos and threes. When members of the committee on foreign relations appeared the interest without the president's room went up several degrees, but when Secretary Long and one or two other cabinet officers entered hurriedly that interest reached the pitch of excitement, inasmuch as several alarming rumors had disturbed the center of the city.

The president communicated with members of the appropriations committee, saying that it might be necessary to call for an emergency appropriation of several millions for additional ammunition and war supplies. The members of the committee promptly responded that they would be ready for anything which might come.

Secretary Gage conferred with the president, and the report immediately became current that he was communicating with New York financiers, preparatory to negotiating a war loan. The secretary would not discuss the report.

It comes with good authority that President McKinley has caused dispatches to be sent to the governors of all the states asking for information as to how large a percentage of the national guard could proceed under marching orders without delay at a sudden call.

In this conference it was decided that the war department should mobilize the militia on the southern coast, probably at Key West, for immediate transfer to Cuba, at the first sign of hostilities.

The president was told that 100,000 troops could be concentrated at any point in Florida in the next four days if they were needed.

Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn of the war department was summoned to the navy department and held a conference with Secretary Long, the necessity of which was withheld from inquirers and the result of which is equally secreted.

Mr. Meiklejohn has made arrangements to go to Fortress Monroe "on public business," as it is given out at the department, and will leave Washington on Saturday. It was said at the assistant secretary's office that he was "going on a visit to General Alger."

The board of ordnance and fortifications will continue in session in Washington for some days. It has completed the work for which it recently met in periodical convention, but the disaster at Havana has induced General Miles, the president of the board, to retain the members in session.

The disposition of the survivors, Captain Dickens, acting chief of the navigation bureau, has arranged for as well as could be from this distance. The wounded sailors in the Havana hospitals, on the Spanish flagship and elsewhere, when not in condition to be brought back to Key West, will be carefully looked after by Miss Clara Barton, who has been given carte blanche to buy any and everything necessary, food, clothing, delicacies and hire of nurses and physicians. The wounded able to get across to Key West, which were brought there on the Olivette, will be taken care of in the marine hospital there. The sound survivors will be quartered in the spare army barracks there.

As for the Maine herself, notwithstanding discouraging reports from Lieutenant Hood as to her condition, the navy department will make the effort to raise her. While this is required by every creditable sentiment, they say that they are bound to remove the hull from the small harbor in any case, and it may be as easy or easier to raise her as it would be to destroy the hull and machinery by the use of divers and dynamite. It is believed that this work can best be done by private wrecking corporations, and negotiations are already afoot for placing the contract, based on work by the day, at an estimated cost of $300,000.

At the navy department specific denial was given of the report, emanating from Madrid, that a torpedo flotilla was about to leave Key West for Cuba. It was stated that only two torpedoboats, the Cushing and the Ericsson, are at Key West and these have not been ordered, and will not be ordered, according to present plans, to Cuba. It was strongly asserted that no present purpose existed of sending any warship there.

So far as could be learned, the only information as to the situation in Havana that reached the president direct came through the press dispatches. On the streets there was noticeably less excitement than the day before, when the people were loth to believe that under the circumstances the loss of the Maine could be traced to other than Spanish sources.

All the flags throughout the city, including those on the capitol and the department buildings are flying at half-mast.

SPAIN'S DISCLAIMER.

Expressions of De Lome Officially Repudiated.

ACCEPTANCE OF THE RESIGNATION.

This Pointed to as Proof of Condemnation of the Offending Diplomat's Views. Way the Letter Became Public Condemned by Spain.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Spain has officially disclaimed in positive manner the reflections contained in the De Lome letter and as officially announced by the state department, the incident is satisfactorily closed.

The following is an abstract of a note sent by the Spanish government to Minister Woodford at Madrid:

"The Spanish government on learning of the incident in which Minister Dupuy De Lome was concerned, and being advised of his objectionable communication, with entire sincerity laments the incident which was the cause of the interview with the minister. States that Minister De Lome had presented his resignation and it has been accepted before the presentation of the matter by Minister Woodford.

"That the Spanish ministry, in accepting the resignation of a functionary whose services they have been utilizing and valuing up to that time, leaves it perfectly well established that they do not share and rather, on the contrary, disavow the criticisms tending to offend or censure the chief of a friendly state, although such criticisms had been written within the field of friendship, and had reached publicity by artful and criminal means. That this meaning had taken shape in a resolution by the council of ministers before General Woodford presented the matter and at a time when the Spanish government had only vague telegraphic reports concerning the sentiments alluded to. That the Spanish nation, with equal and greater reason, affirms its view and decision after reading the words contained in the letter reflecting upon the president of the United States.

"As to the paragraph concerning the desirability of negotiations of commercial relations, if even for effect, and importance of using a representative for the purpose stated in Senor Dupuy De Lome's letter; the government expresses concern that in the light of its conduct, long after the writing of the letter, and in view of the unanswerable testimony of simultaneous and subsequent facts, any doubt should exist that the Spanish government has given proof of its real desire and of its innermost convictions with respect to the new commercial system and the projected treaty of commerce.

"That the Spanish government does not now consider it necessary to lay stress upon or to demonstrate anew the truth and sincerity of its purpose and the unstained good faith of its intentions.

"That publicly and solemnly, the government of Spain contracted before the mother country and its colonies a responsibility for the political and tariff changes which it has inaugurated in both Antilles, the natural ends of which, in domestic and international spheres, it pursues with firmness, which will ever inspire its conduct."

MAINE VICTIMS BURIED.

Spanish Officials Participated In Notable Funeral Ceremonies In Havana.

HAVANA, Feb. 18.—The interment of the martyrs of the Maine took place with all Havana in movement. The flags on the public buildings were at halfmast, and many of the houses were draped in mourning. All classes were represented in the throngs that filled the streets.

Captain General Blanco, other Spanish officials, representatives of the city government, and civic and military delegations were in procession, as well as officers of the Maine and Consul General Lee. The interment occurred in a local cemetery.

HORRIBLE WAY TO DIE.

Officers Jenkins and Merritt Drowned Inside the Vessel.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The state department received the following dispatch from Consul General Lee, dated Havana:

"Merritt in junior officer's messroom. Jenkins in wardroom messroom at the time of explosion. Latter left before an officer who was saved. Must have gone the wrong way. Lights out immediately and water rushing in. Merritt got to hatch with Naval Cadet Boyd. Ladder gone. Boyd climbed through and tried to pull Merritt up, latter left go his hands, fell back and was drowned. Bodies of these officers not yet found, possibly in wreck."

Listless Debate In House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The debate on the bankruptcy bill dragged along listlessly in the house, interest in it being overshadowed by the Maine disaster.

ACCEPTANCE OF THE RESIGNATION.

This Pointed to as Proof of Condemnation of the Offending Diplomat's Views. Way the Letter Became Public Condemned by Spain.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Spain has officially disclaimed in positive manner the reflections contained in the De Lome letter and as officially announced by the state department, the incident is satisfactorily closed.

The following is an abstract of a note sent by the Spanish government to Minister Woodford at Madrid:

"The Spanish government on learning of the incident in which Minister Dupuy De Lome was concerned, and being advised of his objectionable communication, with entire sincerity laments the incident which was the cause of the interview with the minister. States that Minister De Lome had presented his resignation and it has been accepted before the presentation of the matter by Minister Woodford.

"That the Spanish ministry, in accepting the resignation of a functionary whose services they have been utilizing and valuing up to that time, leaves it perfectly well established that they do not share and rather, on the contrary, disavow the criticisms tending to offend or censure the chief of a friendly state, although such criticisms had been written within the field of friendship, and had reached publicity by artful and criminal means. That this meaning had taken shape in a resolution by the council of ministers before General Woodford presented the matter and at a time when the Spanish government had only vague telegraphic reports concerning the sentiments alluded to. That the Spanish nation, with equal and greater reason, affirms its view and decision after reading the words contained in the letter reflecting upon the president of the United States.

"As to the paragraph concerning the desirability of negotiations of commercial relations, if even for effect, and importance of using a representative for the purpose stated in Senor Dupuy De Lome's letter; the government expresses concern that in the light of its conduct, long after the writing of the letter, and in view of the unanswerable testimony of simultaneous and subsequent facts, any doubt should exist that the Spanish government has given proof of its real desire and of its innermost convictions with respect to the new commercial system and the projected treaty of commerce.

"That the Spanish government does not now consider it necessary to lay stress upon or to demonstrate anew the truth and sincerity of its purpose and the unstained good faith of its intentions.

"That publicly and solemnly, the government of Spain contracted before the mother country and its colonies a responsibility for the political and tariff changes which it has inaugurated in both Antilles, the natural ends of which, in domestic and international spheres, it pursues with firmness, which will ever inspire its conduct."

MAINE VICTIMS BURIED.

Spanish Officials Participated In Notable Funeral Ceremonies In Havana.

HAVANA, Feb. 18.—The interment of the martyrs of the Maine took place with all Havana in movement. The flags on the public buildings were at halfmast, and many of the houses were draped in mourning. All classes were represented in the throngs that filled the streets.

Captain General Blanco, other Spanish officials, representatives of the city government, and civic and military delegations were in procession, as well as officers of the Maine and Consul General Lee. The interment occurred in a local cemetery.

HORRIBLE WAY TO DIE.

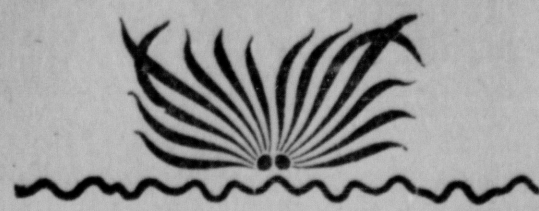

Officers Jenkins and Merritt Drowned Inside the Vessel.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The state department received the following dispatch from Consul General Lee, dated Havana:

"Merritt in junior officer's messroom. Jenkins in wardroom messroom at the time of explosion. Latter left before an officer who was saved. Must have gone the wrong way. Lights out immediately and water rushing in. Merritt got to hatch with Naval Cadet Boyd. Ladder gone. Boyd climbed through and tried to pull Merritt up, latter left go his hands, fell back and was drowned. Bodies of these officers not yet found, possibly in wreck."

Listless Debate In House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The debate on the bankruptcy bill dragged along listlessly in the house, interest in it being overshadowed by the Maine disaster.

URGED ALL TO ORGANIZE

President Mahon's Plea to Intelligent Labor.

IN UNION THERE IS STRENGTH

It is the Only Means by Which the Workingman Can Improve His Condition and the Condition of His Family—A Small Audience Heard the Address.

The mass meeting called by Trades council for last evening in Young Men's Christian association hall was not well attended. There were less than 100 men in the hall when Chairman
Weisand called the meeting to order.
After the list of vice presidents had been called, the speaker, W. D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees, was introduced. He said in part:

"I am not disappointed in my audiences, no matter whether they be large or small. The workmen in some sections can be organized by an audience of only a dozen present. Capital has organized and combined and labor must do the same in order to meet the former. Every trade needs organization. This organization is nothing more or less than a cold hearted business matter. Since the capitalists have organized, let the labor organize. The laboring man has his labor to sell only. Let him sell his labor to the highest bidder, whoever that may be. Let this labor be sold on business principles. Labor has made its mistakes, but it has not made one-half the mistakes that are charged to capital. I will admit the laboring man has entered strikes hot headed, and has lost, but with all this, there has been something gained in the end. Labor it seems, is like a whoop snake. Touch it and it goes off. Labor has never been conducted on the business principle that it should. If the laboring men showed more business principle their condition would be much improved. It is said that the working man is the one who builds the palace and lives in a house, those who represent 85 per cent of the people of this country.

"You can tonight take off the heads of Debs, McGuire and Gompers and put them out of the way, and you will on the morrow have others to fill their places. Let us come together as business men do and form our own lines on which to work. Conditions present themselves every day which need and show the cause of organization.

'Go with me into the homes of the cotton workers of New England, and if the angel of death should enter I venture to say there would not be enough cotton to make a decent shroud to cover their dead bodies. We call upon the working men of today to rally,
to organize and do our work in a business manner.

"Stand at the gate of any large factory at quitting time and watch the army of children that pass you by. See their thin faces, their poorly clad bodies.
When you see this you are thinking, what are we coming too? We have to stop this, you and I. The capitalist will not, and nothing short of organized labor will. We want to take these poor boys and girls out of the factory, place them in schools and have them grow up as good men and women. Let us educate the children instead of degrading them through work.

"The organized labor movement is a foreign institution. It was brought to this country in 1620. It was brought over the broad ocean on the ship Mayflower and the Pilgrim fathers were its prime originators. They came to this country where they could worship God as they desired, work as they wanted, and I thank God that such a thing as organized labor was born. Yes, this idea of organized labor is from other lands, but it is a grand idea. [Applause.]

"As true born American citizens we object to labor building Scottish castles and buying Italian knights.

"There are two sides to a strike. Suppress them if possible, but suppress the one who struck first.

"I am glad to see the press represented here tonight. Outside of the street car men the reporters are the hardest worked men in the country. I like them all, and if the reporters had the running of the newspapers, there would be better reports of strikes and other things than we read today. The man with a blue lead pencil is the one that does all the mean work.

"Whenever you hear a man talking about strikes, hunt up his record and see if he isn't a perpetual striker. Some of them are always striking, but they always want as much as capital has in a fair ratio. The laboring man, it is said, is never satisfied. Is the capitalist?
Capital has music in the home, grass in the yard. Why not let the laboring man have the same? Organization is the way to get them, and nothing else.

"That song of 'ballots, not bullets,' sounds grand and poetic, but we have been voting for over 100 years, and we will continue to do so. We voted for protection. This has, I will admit, benefited the factory owner, but I have failed to see where it has benefited the wage earner. The cotton strike in New England is an example. The patrolling of a coal mine with coal and iron police and detectives is a sample of good protection. Let the laboring man vote as he chooses, irrespective of party and party promises. If we want parties it is about time we did something that would benefit us.

"I want to see the laboring man organize and form his own policy. Let us rally, get up and do something. Let us reach down to the one that is out of work; lift him up to our standard. If we don't do this, we will be down lower than we are now. Business men are awakening to the benefits to be derived from organization. So let us, workingmen, organize, and by this we will raise a standard that can never be pulled down.

"Our children; we must take care of them, and make conditions better for them. Labor will have to do this. Ever the stars and stripes are upheld by labor organizations, and I make this assertion without fear of contradiction.
Capital has no bounds. Unorganized labor has furnished nothing but tramps, but the united workmen have more than this to show. We are living in an hour when men must rise up in behalf of their homes, their wives, their firesides, and last, but not least, in behalf of civilization.

Mr. Mahon left at noon for Pittsburg
where he will address a meeting tonight.
He will then return to his home in Detroit where there is much work awaiting his attention. The gentleman has traveled extensively, and has always been connected with the cause of organized labor.

NO MORE FREE SHINES

Shoe Houses Have Adopted
a New Plan.

IT COST TOO MUCH MONEY

To Keep Pretty All the Footwear They
Sold—The New Order Goes Into Effect
Tomorrow, and Will Be Rigidly Enforced.

After tomorrow night the man who has been in the habit of having his shoes
shined for nothing at the store where they were purchased, must go down into
his pocket and pay the price charged in
other towns.

Some time ago a shoe dealer announced that all shoes purchased at his store would be shined free of charge,
and others quickly followed. The practice, however, has become a nuisance,
and the dealers have agreed to dispense with the service. Tomorrow will mark its close. The dealers say that they cannot longer afford to continue it.

HORSE RACING.

They Whooped Her Up on Seventh Street
Last Night.

The citizens of Seventh street had
full knowledge of racing last evening,
and life and limb of pedestrians and
children were endangered. Children
were called from the street by careful
mothers, and the speeders had full sway.
The writer witnessed the contests between the animals, one in a sulky and
the other under saddle, and the police-
man who would not have made complaint, had he happened to wander
around and about that vicinity, would have well deserved the condemnation of the Law and Order society, if such a feature could be made a success in East Liverpool. The hour was about 5
o'clock. The fact that horsemen dare
to thus offend, in the very face of the late criticisms made in the council chamber, convinces the conservative and
better class of citizens that the so-called sporting element believe that they can
defy the authorities with impunity.
They must be taught a lesson. Mayor
Gilbert cannot act otherwise. The first offense must be met with a salutary fine,
and the second offense receive the limit
of the law. Turn on the light.

more than a hundred, and every person present enjoyed the occasion. The music was exceptionally good, and the lunch was dainty and appetizing.
Nothing was left undone that would add to the pleasure of the occasion.

A large number of ladies responded this afternoon to the invitations sent out by Mrs. B. M. Louthan, and they were elegantly entertained at her pleasant home in Walnut street.

The University association will give a reception this evening at Odd Fellows

NO SETTLEMENT.

Kittanning Men Are Still Out of Employment.

President Al Hughes returned on the midnight train from Kittanning where he spent yesterday.

He found the situation unchanged,
and no prospects of the strike being settled. The men are standing firm and are determined to win the strike, while Manager Wick is making every effort to secure parties to fill there places, but is having no success.

Sad Case of Destitution.

An unusually sad case of destitution
was reported this morning to the trustees. It was reported that a family living in West End had had no coal and nothing to eat for two days. The mother is ill, while the father is unable to work.
The trustees will investigate at once,
and if the parties are in such circumstances their wants will be attended to.

Don't you fail to see Creston Clarke in "David Garrick" at the Grand Saturday night, Feb. 19.

Issued Invitations.

Invitations are out for the athletic tournament, to be given by the Athletic club, next Wednesday evening. A fine program has been arranged.

NO MORE FREE SHINES

Shoe Houses Have Adopted
a New Plan.

IT COST TOO MUCH MONEY

Keep Pretty All the Footwear They
sold—The New Order Goes Into Effect
Tomorrow, and Will Be Rigidly En-
forced.

After tomorrow night the man who
has been in the habit of having his shoes
shined for nothing at the store where
they were purchased, must go down into
his pocket and pay the price charged in
other towns.

Some time ago a shoe dealer announced that all shoes purchased at his
store would be shined free of charge,
and others quickly followed. The practice, however, has become a nuisance,
and the dealers have agreed to dispense with the service. Tomorrow will mark its close. The dealers say that they cannot longer afford to continue it.

HORSE RACING.

They Whooped Her Up on Seventh Street
Last Night.

The citizens of Seventh street had
full knowledge of racing last evening,
and life and limb of pedestrians and
children were endangered. Children
were called from the street by careful
mothers, and the speeders had full sway.
The writer witnessed the contests between the animals, one in a sulky and
the other under saddle, and the police-
man who would not have made complaint, had he happened to wander
around and about that vicinity, would
have well deserved the condemnation of the Law and Order society, if such a
feature could be made a success in East
Liverpool. The hour was about 5
o'clock. The fact that horsemen dare
to thus offend, in the very face of the
late criticisms made in the council
chamber, convinces the conservative and
better class of citizens that the so-called
sporting element believe that they can
defy the authorities with impunity.
They must be taught a lesson. Mayor
Gilbert cannot act otherwise. The first
offense must be met with a salutary fine,
and the second offense receive the limit
of the law. Turn on the light.

A DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

The Columbian Club Dance Was Largely

The dance given by the Columbian

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, FEB 18

WHEN the history of this week is written, it will likely be shown that there are some things in connection with the destruction of the Maine that were carefully concealed from the public.

THE people of this country expect the government to carefully investigate the destruction of the Maine, and take the required steps to bring the guilty ones to justice, if it can be shown that the catastrophe was not the result of an accident. If it was an accident there is yet room for punishment. Criminal carelessness might not be unknown on a man-of-war.

THE condition of the crockery trade is gratifying in the extreme. The Dingley bill is keeping out European ware, and the purchasing power of the people is being increased by reason of the general spread of prosperity. If this year does not eclipse all other years in the history of the manufacture of crockery it will be because some influence, not now apparent, is hard at work.

FROM present indications the movement to have all Ohio elections in the fall will not go through much further than the preliminary stage. It is opposed by those people who have had sufficient experience in political matters to know how state issues would overshadow municipal affairs, and the latter would go the way ringsters might desire, while the populace were shouting for a gubernatorial candidate.

WHEN selecting your candidates for municipal office do not forget that East Liverpool has passed the days of villagehood, that its business has assumed such proportions as to demand among its officials those men who are possessed of sufficient ability to insure their success in public position. There will be such men on the ticket. You will be doing the city a service by supporting them.

IF the senators and representatives who have ideas would only pool issues the result would be gratifying to the people who feel compelled to read legislative reports, and would doubtless hasten the day of adjournment. Under the popular system everybody with an idea embodies it into a bill, and it must go through the regular channel. That also means discussion and delay, and in a great many instances failure.

YANKEE PLUCK.

THE genuine manhood, nerve, pluck and discipline of the sailors and marines of the ill-fated Maine wins the approval and warm commendation of the civilized world. Truly, Uncle Sam has just cause for pride in the men of his army and navy.

FRANCES WILLARD.

SHE has gone to her great reward. Her death is the nation's loss. She was a woman of grandly glorious character, laboring always and ever for the elevation of the masses and the downfall of the rum traffic. God grant that her death may do more for the cause of temperance than all the rich harvest of her beautiful life.

A GOOD MONTH.

DINGLEY'S bill has been in operation long enough to show its usefulness. The receipts have been increasing month after month until the treasury officials feel safe in making the announcement that February will be the banner month since the McKinley law was wiped off the statutes. The average has been more than a million dollars a day, including Sundays, and the figure for the entire 28 days is now put at $29,000,000. Nothing better than that could be expected.

BENDHEIM'S BENDHEIM'S

THE END of OUR DISSOLUTION SALE is close at hand, and those that haven't yet taken advantage of our bargain offerings should not fail to do so within the next 10 days, as on March 1 the firm of G. Bendheim & Co., as well as our dissolution sale, will be no more.

In order to make the final days of our sale a fit ending, we have again lowered prices several notches, reserving, as it were, the best for the last.

We have also gone over our stock and sorted out about $3,000 worth of Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, etc., that the new firm does not wish to have on its inventory and in order to close them out before the end of the sale, we put prices on this lot that barely covers the cost of the material.

Don't wait until the best bargains are gone. Don't wait until it is too late.

Come now. Buy for present and future needs. It will pay you.

A word to the wise should be sufficient.

WHEN selecting your candidates for municipal office do not forget that East Liverpool has passed the days of villagehood, that its business has assumed such proportions as to demand among its officials those men who are possessed of sufficient ability to insure their success in public position. There will be such men on the ticket. You will be doing the city a service by supporting them.

IF the senators and representatives who have ideas would only pool issues the result would be gratifying to the people who feel compelled to read legislative reports, and would doubtless hasten the day of adjournment. Under the popular system everybody with an idea embodies it into a bill, and it must go through the regular channel. That also means discussion and delay, and in a great many instances failure.

YANKEE PLUCK.

The genuine manhood, nerve, pluck and discipline of the sailors and marines of the ill-fated Maine wins the approval and warm commendation of the civilized world. Truly, Uncle Sam has just cause for pride in the men of his army and navy.

FRANCES WILLARD.

She has gone to her great reward. Her death is the nation's loss. She was a woman of grandly glorious character, laboring always and ever for the elevation of the masses and the downfall of the rum traffic. God grant that her death may do more for the cause of temperance than all the rich harvest of her beautiful life.

A GOOD MONTH.

Dingley's bill has been in operation long enough to show its usefulness. The receipts have been increasing month after month until the treasury officials feel safe in making the announcement that February will be the banner month since the McKinley law was wiped off the statutes. The average has been more than a million dollars a day, including Sundays, and the figure for the entire 28 days is now put at $29,000,000. Nothing better than that could be expected.

THE END of OUR DISSOLUTION SALE is close at hand, and those that haven't yet taken advantage of our bargain offerings should not fail to do so within the next 10 days, as on March 1 the firm of G. Bendheim & Co., as well as our dissolution sale, will be no more. In order to make the final days of our sale a fit ending, we have again lowered prices several notches, reserving, as it were, the best for the last.

We have also gone over our stock and sorted out about $3,000 worth of Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, etc., that the new firm does not wish to have on its inventory and in order to close them out before the end of the sale, we put prices on this lot that barely covers the cost of the material.

Don't wait until the best bargains are gone. Don't wait until it is too late.

Come now. Buy for present and future needs. It will pay you.

A word to the wise should be sufficient.

WELLSVILLE.

THE DATE IS DECIDED

When West End Lots Will Be Sold.

COMMITTEES WERE APPOINTED

Who Will Look After the Business—Good Crowd In Attendance—A Lively Night. The Canning Factory—All the News of Wellsville.

The people who are interested in the West End improvements had an interesting meeting last night.

The session was called to order by Mr. Clark, and Mr. Goetz was made chairman and Mr. Forner secretary. The committee on lots reported progress, and said the number sold was continually increasing. It was also reported that cash subscriptions amounting to $400 were available at any time. The statement was made that Mr. McGregor would want a portion of the purchase price of the land in cash, but it was shown that the amount would be available.

The date for the auction sale of lots was set at Feb. 28. Several persons present thought the weather at that time would not be desirable, and speeches were made by Messrs. Van Dyke, Clark and Steiner, but the vote showed a majority in favor of that date. Messrs. Wells, Forner, Russell, Clark, Steiner and Blackburn were appointed to arrange for the sale, secure a good auctioneer and provide for the entertainment of the people. The committee will meet at the Foraker club tonight.

The Canning Factory.

The gentlemen who came here from Bedford yesterday to consult the board of trade regarding a bonus for a canning factory, returned to their home in the afternoon.

They are much pleased with Wellsville, and will take home glowing accounts of what they say. The gentlemen stated that they would mail to the board a proposition today. No intimation of what it will be is given out.

Personal.

W. L. Fogo went to Cleveland this morning on business connected with the reading room.

John McNutt was in town yesterday, called here by the serious illness of his father, J. C. McNutt.

W. C. Fraser took Arthur Duhig, a bright little colored child of two and a half years, to the Fairmount Children's home this morning.

Miss Low Kessell, of Kenilworth, is very ill with lung trouble and her friends have but small hope for her recovery.

Prof. J. L. McDonald went to Pittsburgh on the morning train.

Judge Smith was in Cleveland on business yesterday.

The News of Wellsville.

The Wellsville Athletic association met in the office of James Stevenson, Main street, last night, and formed a permanent organization. Mark Davis was chairman of the meeting. The following officers were elected: President, John Steffel; secretary, Mark Davis; manager and treasurer, William Brunt; assistant manager and corresponding secretary, Fred Booth. Meetings will be arranged each week and the association will be advanced as fast as possible.

Miss Effie Jenkins very pleasantly entertained 50 of her friends yesterday afternoon at a thimble and card party. Miss Belle Arnold won the first prize, a handsome china cup, for the very best button hole made, and Miss Agnes Boyce won the second prize. To Mrs. J. F. Hamilton was awarded the first prize at cards, and Miss Low Owens the second. Mrs. Clara Fry and Mrs. Effie Jenkins Fry, both of Rochester, Pa., were the out of town guests.

Mrs. J. G. Moore was hostess to the Pedro club, last evening. About 25 members were present. Miss Ada Connell, of Cleveland, and Miss Nora Dennis, of Florence, Pa., were the guests of the occasion.

The children of the parochial school are preparing an entertainment celebrating Washington's birthday, to be given Monday afternoon.

The Catholics of Wellsville and vicinity will celebrate Ash Wednesday on the 23d with appropriate services at the Church of Immaculate Conception.

The Rechabites held a social in their room in Turner's hall, last evening.

Mr. Backes was pleasantly surprised by a party of 25 friends at his home in Center street Thursday night, the occasion being his 43rd anniversary. Excellent music made the hours pass pleasantly and supper was served at 11 o'clock. Two handsome rocking chairs were left Mr. and Mrs. Backes as souvenirs of the occasion.

The dance given last evening at city hall by the Brotherhood of Locomotive firemen was one of the most successful of the season, 70 couples taking part in the grand march. During the evening John Moore and Walter Hunter were playfully scuffling when Moore slipped and fell. He was rendered unconscious by the shock, and a physician summoned. It was fully 15 minutes before he recovered, and was able to walk home.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT

For Continued Prosperity In the Potteries.

BIG SPRING TRADE EXPECTED

Little Labor Troubles In the East Not Expected to Cause Much Damage—Orders Already In Trenton Surpass Expectations.

China, Glass and Lamps in reviewing the pottery trade for the week and prophesying for the future, says:

"The movement in domestic earthenware continues active, and manufacturers are still hopeful of an unusually large spring trade. In the east some uneasiness is felt concerning new perplexities that have risen in the settlement of the wage scale, but the trouble is not general and is confined only to some articles in the list. It is thought that these difficulties will be settled without much trouble and that nothing serious will arise from the delay in coming together. Most all the potteries are in operation and the promise for continued good trade is encouraging all around."

The Toronto correspondent has this to say:

"The prospects for trade here are favorable, and the orders already placed for the spring season have surpassed expectations. There are the same indications for progress and general revival from the depressed conditions of the last four years that are observable in the other pottery districts, and figuratively speaking everybody is taking off his coat and going in with a will to take advantage of improved opportunities."

IN A LITERARY WAY.

Liverpool Boys Are Doing Well at Adrian College.

The Star Literary society, of Adrian college, celebrated its thirty-seventh anniversary the other day, Down's hall being crowded with a fashionable audience.

Among the orators of the evening was Alexander Steele, of this city, whose subject was "Henry George." The Evening Telegram quotes Mr. Steele as having said:

"As Paul stood on Mars Hill and proclaimed to the Athenians the unknown God, so Henry George stood on the frontier line of progress and proclaimed his reform to the world. Like the men who have moved the world he was called a crank, a dreamer and a visionary. His dream was that our prayer, 'Thy kingdom come,' should be a reality instead of a vain repetition. Thinking men begin to recognize that no man should have a monopoly of nature's resources. He made political economy a science full of hope and joy. His heart, his brain, his voice and pen were consecrated to the cause of social salvation, not because he presented this plan, but because he stimulated its discussion. In the death of this man the nation lost a philosopher, that graced our national honor, mankind an emancipator in economic truth, the poor a devoted friend."

Another feature of the evening was the singing of the college quartet, W. A. Curfman, formerly leader of the Girl's band of this place, being first tenor.

A Distinguished Visitor.

J. T. Irwin, of Martin's Ferry, grand chief of records of the grand council of Ohio, Improved Order of Red Men, was in the city last evening exemplifying the unwritten work of the order to Oseola council, Daughters of Pocahontas, and Iroquois tribe.

A large number of the members were present and had a very pleasant time.

It is thought that these difficulties will be settled without much trouble and that nothing serious will arise from the delay in coming together. Most all the potteries are in operation and the promise for continued good trade is encouraging all around."

The Toronto correspondent has this to say:

"The prospects for trade here are favorable, and the orders already placed for the spring season have surpassed expectations. There are the same indications for progress and general revival from the depressed conditions of the last four years that are observable in the other pottery districts, and figuratively speaking everybody is taking off his coat and going in with a will to take advantage of improved opportunities."

IN A LITERARY WAY.

Liverpool Boys Are Doing Well at Adrain College.

The Star Literary society, of Adrain college, celebrated its thirty-seventh anniversary the other day. Down's hall being crowded with a fashionable audience.

Among the orators of the evening was Alexander Steele, of this city, whose subject was "Henry George." The Evening Telegram quotes Mr. Steele as having said:

"As Paul stood on Mars Hill and proclaimed to the Athenians the unknown God, so Henry George stood on the frontier line of progress and proclaimed his reform to the world. Like the men who have moved the world he was called a crank, a dreamer and a visionary. His dream was that our prayer, 'Thy kingdom come,' should be a reality instead of a vain repetition. Thinking men begin to recognize that no man should have a monopoly of nature's resources. He made political economy a science full of hope and joy. His heart, his brain, his voice and pen were consecrated to the cause of social salvation, not because he presented this plan, but because he stimulated its discussion. In the death of this man the nation lost a philosopher, that graced our national honor, mankind an emancipator in economic truth, the poor a devoted friend."

Another feature of the evening was the singing of the college quartet, W. A. Curfman, formerly leader of the Girl's band of this place, being first tenor.

A Distinguished Visitor.

J. T. Irwin, of Martin's Ferry, grand chief of records of the grand council of Ohio, Improved Order of Red Men, was in the city last evening exemplifying the unwritten work of the order to Occola council. Daughters of Pocahontas, and Iroquois tribe.

A large number of the members were present and had a very pleasant time.

WILL MAKE FUEL GAS

Bridgewater Company to Build a Plant.

TWO MILLION CUBIC FEET

Will Be the Capacity of the $75,000 Building That Will Soon Occupy Property Purchased Last Saturday Near the East End Flint Mill—Not an Experiment.

The Bridgewater Gas company has made a move which insures for East Liverpool and Wellsville a plentiful supply of fuel gas. Instead of depending upon the rapidly decreasing supply of the wells, the company will erect a complete plant with a capacity of 2,000,000 cubic feet a day, and sell the aeriform fluid at the rate which now prevails for natural gas.

The NEWS REVIEW last Monday contained the announcement that George Owen has purchased two acres of ground near the East End flint mill from Abner Martin for $1,000. It was not known then that the property was for the Bridgewater company, but that has since developed. Engineers were at work today staking off the buildings and preparing for the actual work of construction. The contracts will be let at once, and work commenced as soon as possible. Before next fall the company will have the plant in operation, and after expending $75,000 will be ready for business.

The plan has been under consideration for several years. When President Green and his associates awoke to a full realization of the fact that the supply of natural gas would not last forever and they must find some other cheap fuel gas or go out of the business, they began to investigate. All sorts of plans and systems were suggested, but without reaching the desired point. It was necessary to find a fuel that would answer every purpose and could be put on the market at the rate charged for natural gas. The story of fuel gas is long, and and filled with failures. Manufacturing concerns, in and out of the belt, have spent thousands of dollars endeavoring to find what would answer their purpose, but with little success.

Mr. Green at length found what he believed was the right thing. It is the process controlled by a Chicago concern, and has been in actual operation so long that it has ceased to be an experiment. It has answered every purpose where-ever tried, and Mr. Green believes it can supply East Liverpool with gas sufficient to forever put an end to complaint.

The Bridgewater company expect to have the plant in operation not later than the early fall. It is not stated whether the supply will be used in connection with what little still comes from the wells, but the officers are determined that Bridgewater customers shall always have as much fuel as they can use.

MR. Wm. ERLANGER, Sr., is now in the east, superintending the manufacturing of our new spring stocks, receiving the goods imported direct, and otherwise preparing for our grand spring opening. His orders are imperative that not a dollars worth of the present stock shall remain over, by the time the remodeled store is ready to receive the new goods.

YOU would be surprised to learn how many men wait for the end of a season to buy overcoats.

The late buyer isn't particular about finding an assortment; all he wants is the reduced price.

And he gets it.

That is, if he comes to Erlanger's.

We were stubborn one season; that was some years ago. Didn't like the idea of losing money on garments which would be worth so much more next year, for there is little change in the style of top coats from season to season.

But the big stacks of new goods the following season made all sorts of sport of the odd lots of the year before.

Someone would enter, pick up one of last year's garments, and say: "Fit me in one like this please." And the salesman would become confused, for he had but one or two of the kind, which of course were't the right size.

Then the big new stacks would insinuate that if the gentleman would step over their way, there would be no difficulty in being suited and fitted too.

Then the older coat would say to the salesman, "at this rate I might remain with you forever. Why didn't you get rid of me last year, you old booby?"

And it taught us a lesson we have never forgotten.

For the remodeled store we are more anxious than ever before to have an entire new stock.

But the big stacks of new goods the following season made all sorts of sport of the odd lots of the year before.

Someone would enter, pick up one of last year's garments, and say: "Fit me in one like this please." And the salesman would become confused, for he had but one or two of the kind, which of course were't the right size.

Then the big new stacks would insinuate that if the gentleman would step over their way, there would be no difficulty in being suited and fitted too.

Then the older coat would say to the salesman, "at this rate I might remain with you forever. Why didn't you get rid of me last year, you old booby?"

And it taught us a lesson we have never forgotten.

For the remodeled store we are more anxious than ever before to have an entire new stock.
